

8 Lip Plumpers That Dermatologists, Plastic Surgeons, and Beauty Editors Say Are the Next Best Thing to Fillers

Coronavirus, or COVID-19, hasn't just kept nonessential workers away from the office, it's also forced dermatologists and plastic surgeons to hunker down in the safety of their own homes. While many doctors are utilizing telemedicine to treat their patients, in-office elective cosmetic treatments have been postponed until further notice—and that includes lip filler appointments.

We won't pretend that there are any at-home products on the market that can offer the much fuller pout and long-lasting results that a great lip filler appointment can give, but if you're in need of a temporary fix, we've got you covered. Below, you'll find multiple lip plumpers that our favorite dermatologists, plastic surgeons, and beauty editors love to use for more luscious-looking lips.

Buxom Power–full Plump Lip Balm ($18)

“I love this balm, which I find very moisturizing. It is filled with hyaluronic acid, peptides, and vitamins A and E.” —New York City board-certified plastic surgeon Dr. Melissa Doft